The 68-year-old novelist said he's gained 15 kilograms since returning to work 18 months ago after a six-month recovery from a spinal injury. "It comes and goes and I think it's genetic, in part. And also I try not to work overtime. "I do stay longer, because one wants to finish something." And he admits he's eating a lot of meat. "But it's probably just my appetite, because you can buy a lot of meat, and bread, and potatoes. "I still eat all the vegetables." Farrell will be joined in the panel by US congresswoman Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez. The freshman congresswoman, 29, has a reputation for being the youngest member of Congress, a record she set in 2018. She also holds the record for youngest female politician elected to Congress, beating other youthful female politicians including the Duchess of Cambridge. The congresswoman, who identifies as a democratic socialist, has made headlines after raising the issue of gun control in the United States. She's also known for her
